Dear Parents and Carers,

Before the February Half Term I surveyed interest for an Online Safety briefing event. The response has been minimal so we are unable to fund an external provider to host an event like this. However, out of the handful of responses we did receive, it has been decided that we can offer 'drop-in' support sessions on a 1:1 basis. We hope this can meet the needs of individual families looking for support with online safety at home. We are also going to host a parents' opinion evening where our 2018-2019 Online Safety curriculum will be previewed with an opportunity to feedback and review this curriculum in this relaxed, informal meeting.

Drop-In Support Sessions

Mr. Marc Faulder will be available for 1:1 15 minute Online Safety meetings week beginning April 16th. Appointments will be available between 3.00pm - 4.00pm and you can bring any questions or concerns to discuss. Marc will listen carefully and share government publications, services, websites and resources you can use to help find out more. It will then be your decision as a parent to take these strategies further at home. To book a 15 minute appointment for Monday 16th, Wednesday 18th or Friday 20th, please e-mail marc.faulder@burtonjoyce.notts.sch.uk with your chosen date and time. Could you also provide a brief description of what you would like support with so that Marc can research before your meeting.

Curriculum Opinion Evening

We would like to invite you to preview our new Online Safety Curriculum for the next academic year (2018-2019). This curriculum has been written by a team of Computing Leaders from Rushcliffe Learning Alliance schools this academic year. The group have met regularly to read the latest publications from the Government and child protection organisations. They have also used their knowledge of issues raised in their schools to inform the writing of this new curriculum. On Thursday 19th April you are invited in to school to read through this curriculum with a hot drink and biscuits. We see this meeting as an informal gathering of our community to read through, discuss and feedback on the content of this curriculum before it is used next year. You will also get to see the publications that have informed the writing of this curriculum. You are welcome to arrive from 4.45pm onwards in Miss Lucy Brodie's classroom and it finish in time for you to collect your child from the PTA Film Night.

Thank you for your continued interest in Online Safety and supporting our efforts in keeping you updated in this everchanging, connected world,

Marc Faulder
