Dear Children of Burton Joyce Primary School,

How are you all? I hope you had a lovely week and weekend, and you have continued to be busy and active. I'm very proud of you all for trying so hard with your schoolwork.

Thank you again for your emails, I saw all sorts of brilliant things last week from mosaics, stories, poems to various baked goods! I also want to say a special big thank you to all those talented Foundation children that have been baking and sending 'thank you' films. They are fantastic!

I've been busy too this week, not just at school doing important Headteacher jobs, but I've also been trying to do some painting at home this weekend. I say try, as I'm not really very good at it. I was meant to be painting my lounge walls but ended up with more paint on me! In the end Mr. Cook and Isobel had to help make it look better by painting all the bits I'd missed!

One good thing I did last week, was making Arthur an I Spy Walk. He really enjoyed doing it so I've attached it to this letter in case you would like to have go. Let me know how you get on if you do!

Look what amazing thing happened one day last week at school... a real rainbow appeared over our Key Worker sign! Isn't that so lovely!

You should all now have your new grids so try and set yourself a challenge to how many activities you are going to do – try something a little different maybe from ones you always do. Let me know how you get on.

I know from your messages lots of you are really missing school – I'm missing you all too! Your teachers are also really missing you, so they are going to ring you at home at some point this week for a chat. If you have any questions or you are struggling with any of your work, you could ask them for help when they call you or you could simply have a natter about all the things you have been doing.

Before I go children, I wanted to remind you that you can email me anytime at head@burtonjoyce.notts.sch.uk I love hearing about what you are getting up to.

Also, a little reminder about how important it is to keep safe when you are online. I'm sure lots of you are spending time playing games online and chatting to friends. Just remember all those important safety tips we talk about at school such as never giving your name or address to anyone, and if something doesn't seem right or you are unsure get a grown-up to look and help.

I hope you all have a good week, hopefully we will soon be together again. Until then, keep being kind, keep listening to your grown-ups and keep smiling!

Take care,

Mrs. Cook
